Stuart Anstis, was until '99 the lead guitarist/song-writer with a premier Black Metal outfit that aroused much interest and acclaim while he was a member.

Few could withstand the pressure of being in the same room as the invincible guitar-lord as he created his trademark steel-edged sounds, let alone would they dare to become his fellow student of the lost arts of archaic musicianship.

David Wayne formerly of Metal Church/Reverend recently joined the ranks replacing Rooss Adams (who can be heard on the mp3 sample). The search for further adherents of the old ways to complete the 5 piece line up required to perform these works live continues.

For such brave radicals the Way will never be easy, but we are not alone, and, they will find us soon.

The music of Bastardsun is Strong Style, the next level for Metal.

Influenced by the finest Metalworks previously forged, this is the invincible force of extreme tempered by the power of tradition.

Stronger than True.

Loyal to the Way

Savage to their very Souls.

Bastardsun.....

Strong Style Metal
